

Seeings of the Ages

Mahatma Gandhi (1869 - 1948)

- Always aim at complete harmony of thought, word and deed. Always aim at purifying your thoughts and everything will be well
- Freedom is not worth having if it does not include the freedom to make mistakes
- Happiness is when what you think, what you say, and what you do are in harmony
- Honest differences are often a healthy sign of progress
- I cannot teach you violence, as I do not myself believe in it. I can only teach you not to bow your heads before any one even at the cost of your life
- In the attitude of silence the soul finds the path in a clearer light, and what is elusive and deceptive resolves itself into crystal clearness
- It is unwise to be too sure of one's own wisdom. It is healthy to be reminded that the strongest might weaken and the wisest might err
- Strength does not come from physical capacity. It comes from an indomitable will
- The weak can never forgive. Forgiveness is the attribute of the strong
- You must be the change you want to see in the world
- An eye for an eye makes the whole world blind
- A 'No' uttered from the deepest conviction is better than a 'Yes' merely uttered to please, or worse, to avoid trouble
- Action expresses priorities

- An ounce of practice is worth more than tons of preaching
- Anger and intolerance are the enemies of correct understanding
- I look only to the good qualities of men. Not being faultless myself, I won't presume to probe into the faults of others
- I suppose leadership at one time meant muscles; but today it means getting along with people
- Infinite striving to be the best is man's duty; it is its own reward
- Live as if you were to die tomorrow. Learn as if you were to live forever
- Man becomes great exactly in the degree in which he works for the welfare of his fellow-men
- Man should forget his anger before he lies down to sleep
- My life is my message
- Nobody can hurt me without my permission
- Satisfaction lies in the effort, not in the attainment, full effort is full victory
- There is a sufficiency in the world for man's need but not for man's greed
- You can chain me, you can torture me, you can even destroy this body, but you will never imprison my mind
